ROAD FROM KYOTO

By choosing our path,
we choose our destination

On May 13, GLF Kyoto 2019 will focus on sustainable landscapes as a critical part of the climate solution. The “Climate, Landscapes and Lifestyles: It is Not Too Late” event will bring together the best minds from science, development agencies, government, Indigenous Peoples, civil society and project implementers to share on-the-ground solutions for a climate smart future.

To keep global temperature rise below 1.5 degrees Celsius in accordance with targets included in the 2015 U.N. Paris Agreement on climate change, we need radical change - change that is systemic, global, organizational, governmental and personal.

The people most often found at the forefront of radical change are artists, activists, change agents, youth, local communities, women, indigenous peoples and influencers.

Technology is connecting us in new ways, mobilizing action and sharing knowledge and information, but have we become increasingly disconnected from ourselves, others and the far-reaching impact and consequences of our choices and actions?

Join us for 24 hours of live streaming from around the world. We will begin in Bonn, Germany, with four specially curated segments on Climate, Landscapes, Lifestyle and Rights, with opportunities to join a live moderated discussion after each segment. From Bonn, we will go straight to a livestream of the GLF conference from Kyoto. We will finish the online experience with five live discussion forums from around the world.

Reflecting the need for joined up thinking, inclusive perspectives and a grasp of the big picture, we are weaving together a global narrative from those who are radical change makers on the front lines, behind the scenes, who are changing paradigms, creating new thinking and moving forward with courageous action.

“Limiting warming to 1.5°C is possible within the laws of chemistry and physics but doing so would require unprecedented changes.”

Co-Chair of Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change Working Group III

Timed to coincide with the 49th session of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, the digital edition of the GLF Kyoto conference: “Climate, Landscapes, Lifestyles - It is not too late” will bridge 24 hours of engaging online content, specially curated to form a global narrative on Climate, Landscapes, and Lifestyle.

The Global Landscapes Forum (GLF) is a multi-stakeholder platform with a global secretariat led by CIFOR and core funding provided by the Government of Germany. The GLF accelerates action towards the creation of productive, prosperous, equitable and climate-resilient landscapes and the achievement of the UNFCCC Paris Agreement and Sustainable Development Goals (Agenda 2030).

WE INVITE YOU TO CONTRIBUTE AND BE A PART OF THIS GLOBAL CONVERSATION

There is an urgent need for positivity, inspiration and the emotional resilience to face the pain of the social and environmental devastation we are confronted with daily.

Hand-in-hand and building on strong scientific and practical evidence, we are entering a new age of human collaboration and connection.

While we have the necessary technology, tools, creativity and knowledge to make the changes we want to see happen, it is time to ask the critical questions: What is standing in our way on the path to positive change? And how can we overcome remaining hurdles and resistance to the needed transformations in the way we make policies, business or lead our daily lives?

SAVE YOUR SPOT IN THE KYOTO 24 HOUR DIGITAL EDITION ON 12-13 MAY

What we are looking for:

Climate

Landscapes

Lifestyle

Rights

Video address from you or a key representative of your organization addressing one or more of the four themes, connecting the global narrative and inspiring people to action.

Short and engaging video content that relates to one of the four themes. This can either be something produced by your organization or simply something you have found inspiring - we welcome all content for review.

Videos should be three to five minutes in length.

Some examples of videos we love are:

George the Poet on Climate Change (RSA)

Combining Science & Traditional Knowledge to Combat Climate Change - Hindou Oumarou Ibrahim (Conservation International)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UQLTa4sU1Ow>

Please note that each theme will be specially curated into an hour long segment and therefore we cannot guarantee that we will be able to use all content submitted. However, we will consider it for our Bonn, Accra and Luxembourg events this year as well as sharing across our website and social media platforms. If you have any ideas on sharing landscape related knowledge do not hesitate to get in touch!

It is not too late!
But the time to act is now.
